PLASTIC SURGEON DR. AMIYA PRASAD FEATURED IN NEW DOCUMENTARY
Venus Unleashed: The Uncensored History of Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Available Now

New York, New York, March 23, 2009 – New York cosmetic surgeon and eyelift specialist, Dr. Amiya Prasad, is featured in the new PBS documentary Venus Unleashed: The Uncensored History of Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery.

Directed by Dr. Elliott H. Haimoff, Venus Unleashed traces the history of plastic and cosmetic surgery back through the Egyptian, Greek, Indian and Roman Empires and shows its evolution through time and culture. Featuring many well-known surgeons including Dr. Patrick McMenamin, Dr. Timothy Miller, Dr. Amiya Prasad and others, Venus Unleashed spotlights the repair of facial and bodily injuries from over the past 4,000 years, giving viewers insight into the transformation of shifting ideals of beauty throughout time.

"I am proud to be a part of this exciting documentary," says Dr. Prasad. "Venus Unleashed is a unique look at the lineage of plastic surgery. It is fascinating to see how the past has impacted today's practices and techniques."

This one-hour documentary is available for purchase through Amazon and should be airing on PBS shortly.
